Just having a look at other things on the document:

Suggestions 4 and 5

I think there is a contradiction here - the document is either locked so that only one person at time can edit it or locking is not applied so anyone can edit and just needs to manage getting a save conflict.

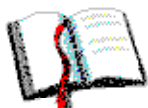

Suggestion 5 - I'm afraid Notes doesn't support real-time editing. However, we are going to be exploring IBM Connections which does.

Suggestion 10

What information do you need to store on the document for audit purposes?
We have a standard method to log actions on a separate log so I think we just need to be sure we're not duplicating things.

Bring responses to the meeting tomorrow.

Thanks,

Hi [Redacted]

Promise this is the last one (I think [Redacted] mentioned our change of mind to you already!) but we're looking to alter the trigger date for the whole notification / declaration process.

Main changes in the document is the bit in the red box, and the addition of some text in Records > Suggestion 1.

Let me know if you need anything else, but otherwise we'll meet tomorrow and thrash it out then.

Cheers!
