Hi Richard

I'm just back from leave and was checking where this report had got to following last week's committee. [REDACTED] mentioned that you were keen to talk to me about this. I'm actually down in London tomorrow for a GSS meeting at the Ministry of Justice at 11am. I could drop by at [REDACTED] just after 10am (my train gets into [REDACTED]), or have the conversation by phone after about 3pm.

Let me know what works best, and I'll look forward to speaking tomorrow.

Roger

Hi Roger,

[REDACTED] out today, hence my replying.

I'm very happy to send a note to your team after the Committee's discussion of the Report. But I don't think it would be appropriate to share with you the draft paper to the Committee - it's important to us and to the Non-Executive Directors that our briefing and advice is private, as I would expect your briefing to your Ministers to be.

Regards,

Richard.

Thank you for considering the comments we made on the draft assessment report and for letting me see the version to be put to the committee. Can I ask for two more things: It would be really helpful to see the paper on this for the committee. Also, once the committee has discussed the report next Thursday, it would be really important to have feedback about what happened. I'm on leave from today until Tuesday 22nd, so it would be easier if you were able to drop the group of Scottish Government statisticians copied in here to that.

Thanks.

Roger
